Jan-Jun Tax Statement Deadline: August 1

Your tax statements were sent via paper mail at the end of June and sent digitally to your current email address.

It is imperative to make the filing deadline to avoid penalties from the Illinois Department of Insurance.

You still must file your tax statements even if no taxes are due or there was no account activity.

Do not send tax statements or payments to SLAI.

Tax statements and payments must be submitted directly to the Illinois Department of Insurance.

Statements and payments must be mailed by the deadline to avoid penalties.

A mailing service with tracking and proof of mailing and delivery is recommended.

Supporting Our Members 41 Years and Onward

The Annual Meeting of SLAI was held on May 20, overlooking the iconic Chicago skyline at the Metropolitan on the 67th floor of the Willis Tower.

Attendees enjoyed the usual first-class hospitality and industry networking that SLAI prioritizes at member events. And for the first time, the meeting featured information stations from major allies of the field including the Katie School of Insurance, Wholesale & Specialty Insurance Association (WSIA), and Big I Illinois.

SLAI is extremely grateful for our keynote speaker, Grace Hanson, a leading innovator in the ethical implementation of artificial intelligence for insurance underwriting. Hanson's presentation detailed the necessity for human guidance and decision-making as companies explore the use of AI in their daily operations.

Our deepest thanks to our attendees and staff for an amazing event. We'll see you next year!
